

SILVER OR GOLD.

Better than either is a healthy liver. If the liver is O. K. the man is O. K. His blood is kept pure, his digestion perfect, and he can enjoy life and act intelligently and patiently upon the questions of the day. You all know what to take. You have known it for years. It is Simmons Liver Regulator—

For years you and your fathers have found it of sterling worth. It is and always has been put up only by J. H. Zeilin & Co. Take note but the genuine. It has the Red Z on the front of the wrapper, and nothing else is the same, and nothing so good.

THE SILVER IN A DOLLAR.

Failure of the "50-cent Dollar" Exposed.

While the exceeding great cry regarding the "50-cent dollar" is having its effect, let us look for a moment into the question and discuss the matter in its entirety. There has been much written on the subject, but there has probably been nothing more to the point than the little review printed by Mr. A. J. Warner. In this he says that allied to the notion of "intrinsic value," if not growing directly out of that fallacy is the platitudinous oft-heard: "Put a dollar's worth of silver in a dollar." If the value of the metals was intrinsic and did not depend on the law of supply and demand, then there might be some sense in such a demand; but as the value of both these metals depends on the law of supply and demand, and as demand for them comes largely from monetary use, to ask that a given weight of metal should have the same value with monetary use, or the demand for it for money, taken from it, that the other has with the demand for it for money doubled by the very act that took away the demand for money from the other, is so manifestly impossible that the wonder is that any intelligent person should repeat it, and yet nothing is more often heard than this absurd claim, and that, too, from otherwise intelligent people. The Vanderbilts have two lines of railroad between New York and Buffalo. Suppose they should take off from one of these lines all the trains to do a little local business, and double the trains on the other. Presumably the earnings of the two lines and the value of the stock of the two roads would be in proportion to the business of each. Would it not appear on its face absurd, under such conditions, for the Vanderbilts to say "When the earnings of the line depleted of trains and business shall equal the earnings of the other line, and its stock becomes as valuable, then, and only then, will we give up the line?"

THE LABORER'S SHARE.

A certain wealthy traveler, on stopping for dinner at an inn, said to the waitress: "You may bill me two eggs, and the broth will make soup for my servant's dinner." "I fear it will be but a thin soup," returned the girl. "That is true," then replied the kind-hearted man, "you may bill me three eggs, I can eat three."—Old Folio.

ANOTHER PUZZLE.

An Index as to the Movement of Gold Under Free Coinage.

Mr. Bryan has given the gold men another puzzle to worry over, and they are beginning to tear their hair. In his Richmond speech the democratic candidate remarked that, despite the fact that the gold men are not in the majority, they are beginning to tear their hair. Vote for free silver.

Vote for more money and better money.

Vote for Smith and Tarvin, and the Bryan and Sewall electors.

A vote for the rooster is a vote for the entire Democratic ticket.

Don't forget that noblest old Roman of them all, Judge Pryor, when you go to the polls.

Put your X under the rooster next Tuesday and you will feel good the rest of your natural life.

ONE X is enough to vote for the Bryan and Sewall electors, for Thompson and Pryor—put it under the rooster.

JUDGE PRYOR has demonstrated his ability and energy as a Judge of the Court of Appeals, and you should vote for him.

The Democratic party should not be held responsible for the insult to Carlisle at Covington—the party cannot watch a Gaitano or a Prendergrast.

The impression is that the Republican party will be benefited by the Carlisle-egg episode at Covington; therefore would it be too much to insinuate that some Republican threw the egg?

The South did not endorse the assassination of Lincoln by Booth; the Democratic party did not endorse the assassination of Garfield by Gaitano; nor does the Democratic party endorse the insult to Carlisle at Covington.

JOHN B. THOMPSON is a twin brother of "Little Phil" Thompson, and is so much like him that the door-keeper of the House could not tell one from the other; and as Phil made a first-class Congressman, you can safely count on John doing likewise.

REPUBLICAN candidate Davidson bobbed up at the court house, Saturday night, in the interest of his candidacy for Congress. In comparison with John B. Thompson, he is a potato hunk by the side of Jos. Lick Knob. If you want the 8th Congressional district properly represented, or in fact, represented at all, vote for John B. Thompson.

JOINT DISCUSSION.

On last Wednesday there was a joint discussion at the court house, Saturday night, in the interest of his candidacy for Congress. In comparison with John B. Thompson, he is a potato hunk by the side of Jos. Lick Knob. If you want the 8th Congressional district properly represented, or in fact, represented at all, vote for John B. Thompson.

Johnson.

Johnson requested Roberts to go after Houk; he is chasing him through the State and has been able, so far, to force a division of time.

Both are young men of ability and each did justice to his party. We, however, felt that Mr. Roberts, who represented Democracy, had much the better of the discussion.

NOT SUITABLE JURORS.

On last Tuesday we noticed in the horserack parade several gentlemen who had served, either on the grand or petit juries, at the last September term of the Madison circuit court. Their fitness was not questioned. The horserack parade was participated in by the best citizens of the county, and while we know that the gold-bug element viewed most of these line line anarchists, repudiators, lunatics or fools, we never for once thought that these opinions would disqualify them from trying the differences arising among our citizens.

Mr. R. R. Burnam is the first to give expression to the idea that such men were in the parade were a class that would not be selected as jurors. Should Republicanism prevail, Mr. Burnam may be a jury commissioner, if so, the gentlemen in that parade will be relieved of that class of public service.

ONE WEEK MORE.

One more week and this campaign will have ended. The battle of the ballots will have been fought and the result known. What the verdict of the people will be no one can tell; but we can hardly believe that an intelligent people can be induced to bankrupt themselves on account of prating for national honor.

Millions of the citizenship of this country have made promises under the impression that the present silver dollar was a genuine dollar and worth as much as money as the gold dollar. In fact, the gold advocates now contend that it is as good as gold, yet they approve the conduct of President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle who have declared that it is not as good as gold; in fact they assert it is not worth half as much as a gold dollar.

If it is as good as gold, can the gold tell why it was not used instead of gold? It is as good as gold, and will remain if Mr. Bryan is elected, but should McKinley be elected no one will say then that the silver dollar is as good as gold. There may be some legislation by which it may be redeemed in gold, but you will bid farewell to the silver dollar.

A GOOD FIGHT.

On the 6th of July last we began in earnest the fight for the people. Glorious indeed was the undertaking at that time. The vilest epithets that could possibly be selected were used to belittle and demean all who believed in the equal treatment of both gold and silver at our mints, notwithstanding it had been taught by all political parties up to within two years past. We followed the dictates of our consciences guided by the best legal authorities in a prayerful investigation of the question.

Since espousing the cause, a leader has come forth whom we are glad to follow. No grander champion ever led his hosts to victory, or pleaded the cause of truth and justice in behalf of his countrymen. Many who at first thought the steps taken by us unwise now commend.

We have made the best fight we could for truth and justice. We have tried not to be harsh or severe, but if possible to persuade men to be both generous and just. Many have confessed to us that through the medium of this paper they have been able to see the breakers ahead and steered clear of them before the disastrous vortex was reached. We believe we have advocated the life and prosperity of the debtor class. We are unable to see the least gleam of hope for them should the gold standard prevail. Bankruptcy and tenancy are their only lot.

To us the gold standard advocates are as cold and heartless as a flycock. They remind us of the tiger that has tasted human blood and will not cease to drink until the last spark of life is gone from the human being assassinated.

We have said our last before the great battle.

We trust that a wise providence will touch the hearts of a free and generous people and end the hearts of those now expecting to vote for a gold standard. May they hear in their dreams instead, in reality, the cry of the mothers and little ones, as they are being ejected from homes they once thought their own. If the voters will be guided by conscience and not prejudice and cupidity, William Jennings Bryan will surely be elected President and all will be well.

THE FARMER STILL VOTES.

The American farmer never voted to demonetize silver; the American people never voted to demonetize silver, nor did the people know it was being accomplished. Demonetization was the work of a particular class who saw they would profit by it, and they accomplished this demonetization by stealth. If you ask what class demonetized silver, the reply is the class that are to-day opposing its demonetization, that is the "Money Power" and the agents. They deny that they demonetized silver, in the face of the proof, yet they cannot deny that they are opposing the demonetization of silver to-day. Probably ten or twenty years from now they will deny that they opposed its demonetization.

No one but holders of fixed investments can profit by the demonetization of silver, and such people have tested their energies trying to show how the farmer and the laborer will suffer under a change to our constitutional monetary system. They forget that the farmer and laborer are suffering now that they never suffered before and that too under the gold standard. They have not only failed to show anything on their side favorable to the farmer, but they have made a ludicrous spectacle of themselves by displaying so much interest for the welfare of the farmer and laborer just at this critical moment. They know that the farmer of this country is honest to the core, and they have tried to impose upon him by dissembling and feigning to believe that they understood the question at issue to be one of morals, and that they, the sweet scented speculators of Wall Street, wanted the moral side to believe that the farmer (whose daily practices show more morality than their professions could imply) is too foolish to come to the aid of a fellow farmer, and supplant him, but to be taught the true doctrine of honesty and honest dealing. They seem to believe that the church-going yeomanry of this country can be tutored in honesty by money changers, men who set a price in money on everything that is good, everything that is pure and everything that is honest, even to the farmer's vote. Men who prate on morals and prey on the masses are not to be trusted. The best protection against such is the purity of the ballot which they are trying to subvert. The ballot is secret, conscience alone will dictate it, and in November it will, with mighty emphasis, rebuke the present effort to enslave the producers of this fair land to the "Money Power."

The farmer of this country and their laborer, the merchant that profits by their purchases and all who are interested in the welfare of the producers of this country should awake to a full realization of the importance of the issue. The farmers should stand together. They produce the wealth of this country and are entitled to a just distribution of the fruits of their labor. A dear dollar does not give it. That dollar demands too much. It not only eats profits, but it assists the mortgage in growing larger and larger. That dollar takes away your produce and more too, and will eventually confiscate all you have. That dollar decreases your earning capacity and diminishes your debt paying power.

The Republican party is in the hands of the "Money Power." The surrender was made at St. Louis. Many honest Republicans left the party when the surrender was made. The "Money Power" then controlled its few sympathizers in the Democratic party and is getting them to assist the Republicans to try to offset the influence of the men who left the party in defense of principle. But the farmer must remember that many Republicans who had good things to say for the farmer have remained in the party that is still Republican by name and these men are now against the farmer. The list of such men is long.

One of the most conspicuous examples is Bob Ingersoll. Bob used to be for silver and the farmer. Bob tried to explain away a speech that he made for silver in 1894, but the result of this speech was a lecture on "The Farmer." The lecture has been published in his official book of lectures by his publisher, C. P. Ferrell. On page 206 we read the following from that lecture: "For my part I do not ask any interference on the part of the government except to undo the wrong it has done. I do not ask that money be made out of nothing, nor do I ask for the prosperity born of paper, but I do ask for the demonetization of silver. Silver was demonetized by fraud. It was an imposition upon every solvent man, a fraud upon every honest debtor in the United States. It assassinates labor. It was done in the interest of avarice and greed, and should be undone by honest men. The farmer should vote only for such men as are able and willing to guard and advance the interest of labor." Ingersoll has turned as others have turned under the money influences brought to bear in the campaign. The power of money is great, and it was never so well demonstrated as in this campaign. Will farmers vote to increase the power of money? Will they vote against their own interest? Will they follow men who have changed when the corrupt influence that made the change is so apparent and when these men are not honest enough to admit that they have changed and to give reasons for so doing? No one can believe that the American farmer will do this; but that, with a standard purpose and an aim fixed upon the desired goal, he will not be led astray by friends who have proven false. Bob Ingersoll spoke the truth in his lecture and has not disproven it in his recent speeches. The farmer, the laborer, the merchant and mechanic must remember that Ingersoll in a lecture and in a purchased campaign speech said: "Silver was demonetized by fraud, it was an imposition on every solvent man, a fraud upon every honest debtor in the United States. It assassinates labor. It was done in the interest of avarice and greed, and should be undone by honest men. Will farmers vote to increase the power of money? Will they vote against their own interest? Will they follow men who have changed when the corrupt influence that made the change is so apparent and when these men are not honest enough to admit that they have changed and to give reasons for so doing? No one can believe that the American farmer will do this; but that, with a standard purpose and an aim fixed upon the desired goal, he will not be led astray by friends who have proven false. Bob Ingersoll spoke the truth in his lecture and has not disproven it in his recent speeches. The farmer, the laborer, the merchant and mechanic must remember that Ingersoll in a lecture and in a purchased campaign speech said: "Silver was demonetized by fraud, it was an imposition on every solvent man, a fraud upon every honest debtor in the United States. It assassinates labor. It was done in the interest of avarice and greed, and should be undone by honest men. The farmer should vote only for such men as are able and willing to guard and advance the interest of labor." Ingersoll has turned as others have turned under the money influences brought to bear in the campaign. The power of money is great, and it was never so well demonstrated as in this campaign. Both are young men of ability and each did justice to his party. We, however, felt that Mr. Roberts, who represented Democracy, had much the better of the discussion.

and honest dealing. They seem to believe that the church-going yeomanry of this country can be tutored in honesty by money changers, men who set a price in money on everything that is good, everything that is pure and everything that is honest, even to the farmer's vote. Men who prate on morals and prey on the masses are not to be trusted. The best protection against such is the purity

JOINT DISCUSSION.

On last Wednesday there was a joint discussion at the court house between Messrs. Houk and Roberts, of Knoxville, Tenn., Mr. Houk slipped into this State with the intention of making a number of speeches. Mr. Roberts dropped onto his movement and notified Chairman by displaying so much interest in the welfare of the farmer and laborer just at this critical moment. They know that the farmer of this country is honest to the core, and they have tried to impose upon him by dissembling and feigning to believe that they understand the question at issue to be one of morals, and that they, the sweet scented speculators of Wall Street, represent the moral side. They presume to teach morality and to believe that the farmer (whose daily practices show more morality than all their professions could imply) is too enough to come and sit at the feet of false teachers and, suppliant like, beg to be taught the true doctrine of honesty

By closing the silver mines. The demonization of silver. Arrested our nation's zeal, But Sherman increased his riches. Many millions by the deal. If hell is the place for traitors, Who to honor have bid farewell, Then when John Sherman dies His soul will land in hell. And as companions of his doom, Cleveland and Carlisle shall be; In hottest flames of hell to spend An endless eternity. EUGENE BURTON.

TOWN MUST PAY. A souvenir of our late unlamented boom was a judgement in favor of Hon. T. G. Stuart against the city for $500 and interest which represented a forfeit put up by Mr. Stuart in regard to the street railway which was transferred to other parties without Mr. Stuart's consent. The railway company, who was also defendant, is insolvent, and the city will have to pay. The total amount will be something less than a thousand dollars. —Winchester Democrat.

How's This?

R. R. Barnum said as he viewed the horseback parade on Tuesday week last, that they were not such men as would be selected as jurors. We wonder what kind of men he would select. From time immemorial the memory of man runneth not to the contrary; the young men of the country have been acting as jurors. But in this 19th century they are dignified by a gold bug.

Spoke For Bryan And Silver.

Mrs. Josephine K. Henry, of Versailles, one of the ablest female orators in the State, addressed a large audience last evening at the court house. Her remarks were good and right to the point, receiving frequent applause. Mrs. Henry, like all other silverites, is in earnest and does good work wherever she goes; her efforts will be rewarded by Bryan's election on the 3rd of November.

Married.

Miss Emily George, of Lexington, and Rev. Dr. George Varden, of Paris, whose engagement was announced some time ago, will be married on next Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents on North Broadway. The ceremony will be performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the wedding being a quiet home affair, only a few friends and relatives being present. The bride and groom will leave shortly after the ceremony for Dr. Varden's home in Paris.—Times.

Two Sudden Deaths.

Nancy, 6-year-old daughter of Jas. McCoy, died on Tuesday night, after a few hours illness. It is thought that her death was the result of eating the kernels of peach seeds. John D. Christopher lives close to Mr. McCoy, on Moberley avenue, near Fifth. His niece, Miss Alice Moore, died suddenly on the preceding Saturday. She was down street on Friday and assisted Mrs. George White in removing. Her trouble was pronounced heart failure.

Bronston-Dudley.

At the home of her brother, Hon. Charles J. Bronston, of Lexington, Kentucky, Monday morning, at 6:30 o'clock, Miss Nettie T. Bronston became the wife of Mr. Sherman Dudley, a prominent Chicago attorney. This wedding was in the nature of a surprise to the society folk, only the members of Miss Bronston's family having knowledge of it. Mr. and Mrs. Dudley departed immediately for their home in Hyde Park Chicago. The bride is widely known in the Blue Grass Region.

Evans-Chenault.

At 1 p. m. today, at the residence of her brother, Dr. M. Chenault, on Lancaster Avenue, the marriage ceremony will be performed between Mr. Eli Beau Evans, of Bourbon county, and Miss Emma Chenault, of this place. After the ceremony the couple will leave for the home of the groom's parents, in Bourbon county, to be received by and secure the blessings of their parents, and after a short stay will return to Madison county, where they will reside. Miss Chenault is a daughter of the late Robert Chenault, and is a charming young lady. Mr. Evans is the son of one of Bourbon county's most prosperous farmers.

Sunday Shooting.

On last Sunday evening, four miles east of Richmond, on the Irvine pike, Charles James shot and seriously, if not mortally, wounded Jacob Garrison with a shot gun—the load taking effect in the right shoulder. James had forbidden Garrison to accompany him with his daughter on account of her feeble mind, but contrary to the father's request, Garrison slipped the girl from her home and succeeded in getting her to the woods. Mr. James missing his daughter started in pursuit, and after overtaking them, called to his daughter. At this juncture Garrison made a rush for James with the above result. James surrendered and was placed in jail.

-We do not claim to make the cheapest clothing on earth, but we will make it cheaper and in all other respects equal to any you have ever bought in Richmond. Come and see our line of samples. We guarantee a fit. Suits to order $15 and up. W. D. Ham, Agent for The Globe Tailoring Co.

Married in Cincinnati.

Mr. H. C. Shipp, of Paris, and Miss Jennie Ferrill, of this place, quietly drove out of town, yesterday afternoon, and boarded the R. N. I. & B. train at Milton for Cincinnati, at which place they were married. The bride is a daughter of Capt. Thos. Ferrill, our well-known auctioneer.

Wouldn't Let 'Em Come.

A Valley View man tells us that the Southern Lumber Co.'s mill pays on Saturday, but announced on Saturday the 17th that it would pay on Tuesday at 6:30 p. m., and that every man must be there at that time to get his money. The mill ran all day Tuesday, the day of the Richmond barbecue, and the mill hands could not attend the barbecue. The mill proprietors don't want the glorious free silver doctrine preached to their employees.

Distinguished Guests.

Hon. Lloyd Lowndes, Governor of Maryland; Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lowndes, of Clarksburg, W. Va.; Miss Roman, of Cumberland, Md.; Mr. Tasker G. Lowndes and Mr. J. Philip Roman, of Cumberland; Messrs. Clifford Cook and Isaac Jordan, of Cincinnati; arrived at noon in Governor Lowndes' private car, to attend the Lowndes-McDowell wedding to-morrow. They took a suite of rooms at the Gilcher. To-night Governor and Mrs. Lowndes will be tendered a reception by Col. Nicholas McDowell and wife.—Danville Advocate.

-Dr. G. Goldstein arrived in Richmond 21 hours late, but has decided to remain here until the 28th. Those who have not consulted Dr. Goldstein, will call on him during his stay. He has fitted glasses to our best citizens for many years and has given universal satisfaction. Call on him at the Glyndon. Office hours from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

A Tragic Death Recalled.

The remains of Capt. John Bull, whose tragic death by drowning last spring at Jackson, is still fresh in the public mind, passed through Lexington yesterday forenoon, en route to Louisville, the home of his parents, to be interred there.

Capt. Bull was a teacher in the Jackson Military Institute a branch of Central University, and was among the most prominent young professional men of the State. He graduated with honors at a Louisville college and went to Jackson to teach. During the spring freshets on the Kentucky river, and several of the students after classes one day were walking on some loose logs that were floating by, as the logs were doing. A log turned on which Capt. Bull was standing, and he fell among the mass and never came to the surface. The logs held him a prisoner beneath the water without a charge for life. Three weeks later, when the waters had subsided, a logman who was on the river saw a human hand sticking up from a sand bar, which the falling water had left exposed. He secured a spade and soon had the body of Capt. Bull on the bank. It was necessary to bury it at once, and it was only exhumed yesterday.—Lexington Herald.

-What a clever word "best" is anyway. So short and conveys so much meaning. What meaning does it convey to you when applied to the society folk, only the members of Miss Bronston's family having knowledge of it. Mr. and Mrs. Dudley departed immediately for their home in Hyde Park Chicago. The bride is widely known in the Blue Grass Region.

An Attempt at Coercion at Valley View.

Valley View, Ky., Oct. 22.—The boldest attempt at coercion ever made in this part of the State was tried by Capt. Roy, a large saw mill owner of Madison county. He employs about a poll of them and found that nearly all were for Bryan and silver. He immediately sent down his mill and gave the men orders to leave the premises. They also live in his houses and he ordered them to vacate. The men, who are in very poor circumstances, tried to find employment but failed, and rather than see their families starve they all returned to work at the mill and swore to support McKinley, with the exception of Mr. Baxter, who told Roy to "take your mill and houses and go to h— with them! I would rather be a tramp than a slave!"

Capt. Roy has bought all of his men gold hats and McKinley buttons, which he compels them to wear.

Last Saturday he paid his men off in gold to make his game stronger, but they did not keep it long, as they are compelled to deal at the Company's store, and it was immediately returned to the company's coffers.

A great deal of indignation is being expressed by the people in this section at the way in which Roy has treated his men and steps may be taken to prosecute him for intimidation. Capt. Roy's action has caused the severest criticism from the best people in the State.—Argonaut.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the only remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore of all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be recommended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a cathartic, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest as the most laxative and gives most general satisfaction.

The "White Squadron." The most attractive feature of the great barbecue parade was the group of seventeen young ladies from Fox-town, sixteen of whom were dressed in white, with white hats and shoes, and red on the white, the other dressed in yellow and riding a yellow horse.

This white horsey representative of the single gold standard was Miss Nancy Harris. The sixteen were: Zela Williams, Aeshah Black, Bessie Lecker, Katie Tommy, Hallie Dozier, Baz Hockett, Margaret Luckey, Lulu Lecker, Lorna McGuire, Jane Turner, Emma McGuire, Laura Kash, Margaret Phelps, Florence Cobb, Nancy Belle Quisenberry, Jesse Ross.

The "White Squadron" was led by Captain Leon Williams, and it was a nearer approach to a delegation of angels than any thing you can imagine. D. C. Kash and Sam Todd carried the great double banner, Gordon Burgh carrying the flag.

Thoroughly Absorbed. Red House furnishes two instances of the deep and wide range that the approaching election is taking in the minds of the people. Court day at 8 o'clock, a Red House farmer came to Richmond, accompanied by his wife. He heard the several "big" speeches at the Court House, then went straight home, and at about 10 o'clock the place for his wife and even inquired of the neighbors if they had seen her. One of them reminded him that she went with him to town. The unfortunate lady spent the night with friends and went home alone on Tuesday.

A Red House man came to Richmond the other day. He dropped in at night where a number of persons had assembled and were listening to delightful music. For half an hour he sat like a Roman statue, while the mandolin and guitar sent forth enchanting melodies. Finally the music stopped, hands clapped and heads were bowed. Red House man straightened up and in sepulchral tones offered to bet $50 that Bryan would carry Kentucky.

Willis-Turney. A beautiful and interesting wedding was that at Paris, Wednesday of Samuel Woodson Willis, of this county, and Miss Nellie Turney, of Paris. The Second Presbyterian church, where the ceremony was performed, was handsomely decorated in palms, ferns and foliage plants. Dr. E. B. Rutherford was the officiating minister, and Prof. Gutzwiller, organist.

Miss Fannie A. Bell, of Georgetown, was maid of honor, and Mr. Hiram Shaw, Jr., of Lexington, best man. The ushers were Ben Willis, brother of the groom; Dr. Nelson Frewitt and J. L. McDowell, of Paris; Mr. S. T. C. of Washington D. C., and Messrs. C. D. Winn and D. L. Morris, of Paris.

The bride wore a beautiful wedding gown of white mousseline de soire over white satin en train and tulle veil, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The costume of the maid of honor was a skirt of white corded bengaline and coat of royal purple velvet with vest of mousseline de soire embroidered in corn color and gold, and a hat to match. She carried a bunch of bride roses tied with purple ribbon.

The bride and groom have gone to Asheville, N. C., where they will remain a week after which they will visit other points of interest before they return to Clark to reside.

The groom is one of our most popular young men, and the bride who has often visited here, is a lovely lady both in person and character.—Winchester Democrat.

The groom is a son of Dr. Sam Willis, a brother of Postmaster J. B. Willis, this place.

Common sense union arguments are now taking the place of the old style two piece gowns. They are cheaper, more comfortable and perfect fitting, being knit to your measurements, and have no seams. A descriptive catalogue, samples of goods and self-measuring tape, are sent on application. Prices for suits $2.00 to $24.00 each. W. D. Ham, Factory Agent.

It is estimated that the amount of literature sent out by the respective headquarters of the several political parties in Washington, this campaign, is equal to all that had been sent out in thirty years.

Calabar is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sassaaparilla, which purifies the blood.

Editor J. L. Montgomery, of Marshall Democrat, states that for many years, he suffered untold agony from Dyspepsia. At last he began to take Ayer's Sassaaparilla, and by the time he used six bottles, he was as well as ever. Cures others, will cure you.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well-informed.

While thorough in action, Ayer's Pills strengthen rather than stimulate the excretory organs. Leading physicians recommended them because they are free from calomel or other injurious drugs, being composed entirely of the best vegetable ingredients.

Mechanicsville, St. Mary County, Md. I sold a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm to a man who had been suffering with rheumatism for several years. It made him a well man. A. J. McGill. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by T. S. Hagan.

If afflicted with scalp diseases, hair falling out, and premature baldness, do not use grease or alcoholic preparations, but apply Hall's Hair Renewer.

The Darlington, Wis., Journal says editorially of a popular native medicine: "We know from experience that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, is all that is claimed for it, as on two occasions it stopped excruciating pains and possibly saved us from an untimely grave. We would not rest easy over night without it in the house." This remedy undoubtedly saves more pain and suffering than any other medicine in the world. Every family should keep it in the house, for it is sure to be needed sooner or later. For sale by T. S. Hagan.

Don't let anyone persuade you to take anything else instead of Simmons' Liver Regulator. Some merchants will try to do this but not for your good. They do it to make a little more profit on something of no nervous strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so-called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. "The Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

If your children are subject to croup watch for the first symptom of the disease—hoarseness. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse it will prevent the attack. Even after the croupy cough has appeared the attack can always be prevented by giving this remedy. It is also invaluable for colds and whooping cough. For sale by T. S. Hagan. 18-22

Fads in Medicine. There are fads in medicine as in every thing else and a "new thing" frequently sells for a short time simply because it is new. But in medicine, as in nothing else, the people demand and will be satisfied only with positive, absolute merit. The fact that Hood's Sassaaparilla has stood its ground against all competition, and its sales have never wavered, has remained steadily at the top, despite the claims of any other medicine, is a strong evidence of its value.

The new things have come and gone but Hood's Sassaaparilla rests upon the solid foundation of absolute merit and its power to cure, and its sales continue to be the largest in the world.

Gray Hair made Dark. I saw in your paper a statement that Zulu Valier had turned gray hair into natural color in three weeks. As I was very gray I sent for a sample package, and in less than three weeks my hair was perfectly restored to natural color, and by using Zulu Valier, her hair is now a beautiful auburn. Anyone can get a sample package of Zulu Valier, by sending 21 cents stamp to Wilson & Co., New Concord, Ohio, and if it does not restore the hair to natural color in three weeks they will return your stamp; it not only restores the hair to natural color, but will stop the hair falling out immediately and is one of the best hair tonics made, and you take no risk, and if it does not satisfy you perfectly they will return your stamp.
